

Instant Coffee Cited As Dollar-Stretcher

The Nestle Co.—which takes understandable pride in the spotless, ultra-efficient new coffee processing center that it will open here tomorrow—also is utilizing the occasion to do a lot of boasting about the product that will be turned out at its Granite City plant on an around-the-clock basis.

Instant coffee is important not only as a beverage and time-saver but also as a dollar-stretcher, Nestle officials told the Press-Record today.

They cite as their authority recent studies conducted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The studies demonstrate that modern instant and convenience foods can help budget-conscious homemakers balance their budgets as well as their menus.

One of the biggest savings potentials offered by modern instant coffee, which costs about half of what the average family spends if it brews coffee in the old-fashioned way, the studies reveal.

The government report referred to says that from $1 to $1.06 of every $100 the average family spends on food goes for coffee. The report had this to say:

Big Cost Difference
“Of all items compared, the largest difference between the cost of the convenience (instant) form and the less convenient form was coffee. Instant coffee accounted for about $1 per $100 food expenditure—enough to make 125 cups. Cost of an equivalent number of servings from regular roasted coffee would have been $1.96.”

While cup for cup, instant coffee is about half the cost of ground coffee, both products are prepared from 100% pure coffee. The real story behind the modern food miracle goes back to 1930. At that time, Brazil, the world's largest producer of coffee, had millions of tons of coffee that were dumped into the ocean. But still a large surplus remained a problem. The Brazilian government turned for help to the head office of the world-wide Nestle organization in Switzerland.

Long Research
Could Nestle develop a new kind of instant coffee that retained the freshness, aroma and flavor of ground coffee? The Swiss company launched into a research program that was to last almost ten years before success was achieved.

In 1939, the first packages of Nescafe were offered in U. S. food stores. Homemakers were for it. It was satisfying, convenient and economical. Sixty per cent of the women who were served free cups of Nescafe in food stores bought packages on the spot.

During world war II, most Nescafe went to the armed forces. GI's in combat were thankful for the handy packets of Nescafe they carried. After the war, returning soldiers and sailors told wives and mothers about the new way of serving and enjoying coffee.

Consumer demand soared. As sales increased, more processing plants were opened, and by 1948 Nestle had four instant coffee plants. From coast to coast, Teams of Nestle buyers around the globe bought the best types of coffee in major producing nations.

Techniques Improved
Processing techniques were improved and refined, and millions were spent to develop new ways to brew and package the best instant coffee.

One of the advances in the processing art was the perfection of a system to capture all the best aroma of brewed coffee and seal them into every package of instant coffee processed.

Another more recent company development was a functional package that permitted users to see when their supply of instant coffee was running low.

Instant coffee is now used in 63% of U. S. homes and is growing steadily. In preparing it at home, users merely replace the water removed in processing, creating perfect coffee in an instant.

Fans of the instant product explained their preference in a recent survey: 78% said it is easier and quicker to make; 31% said the flavor was better; 10% said they could adjust the strength easier to suit their taste; and 18% said it was less wasteful.

Wide Food Line
While tomorrow's spotlight will be on instant coffee, Nestle also is noted for its production of chocolate, cocoa products, bouillon cubes, seasonings, cheese, condensed milk, instant tea and Crosse & Blackwell preserves and sauces.

And the Nestle story would not be complete without reference to its president, Haas J. Kirkpatrick, who was born in 1906 of Swiss parents. His schooling in Switzerland included preparing him to be a manager for Nestle.

At 21, he joined the Nestle organization in London. Soon after he went to Manila, and then to Java and North Borneo. He is fluent in seven languages, although he speaks best in his Tagalog, the native language of the Philippines, is rusty from disuse.

Wolffberg was in Singapore when the city fell in 1942. He gathered his wife and infant daughter and caught the last boat for Australia. When he reached the U. S., he joined Nestle operations headquartered in Stamford, Conn. In 1952, Wolffberg was named president of the Nestle Co.

World Wide Group
Wolffberg has 33 years' experience making and selling food products on three continents. He has been described as knowing what it takes to satisfy numerous needs at prices people can afford. The company which he heads is the U. S. member of the worldwide Nestle group presently operating in 150 nations.

There is no Wolffberg formula for success—although he is generally the first to arrive at company headquarters in White Plains, N. Y., and the last to leave. His approach is always direct and frequently sprinkled with flashes of humor. He is noted for creating a flood of new ideas on the spot.

World politics and economic conditions occupy an important place in his sweep of interest. He has an unflinching belief that private enterprise is the best means for developing new industries in emerging nations.

He lives in Scarsdale, N. Y. with his wife and two daughters. Mrs. Wolffberg is the former Clara H. Frank, daughter of C. W. Frank, who played a prominent role in expanding and modernizing the Philippines' educational system.

Wolffberg was national finance committee chairman of the Candy, Chocolate and Confectionery Institute (1960-61); first vice president (1960-61) and board member (1955-61) of the Grocery Manufacturers Association of America; president of AIDA (1962); and general chairman, Fifth International Food Congress (1962).

MRS. MICHAEL G. MAHONEY, the former June Dorch, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dorch of Dover, Tenn., who was married Saturday evening at Mt. Zion General Baptist Church.

Candlelight Ceremony For Mahoney-Dorch Nuptials

Miss June Dorch became the bride of Michael G. Mahoney of Kirkwood, Mo., in a candlelight ceremony taking place Saturday evening at Mt. Zion General Baptist Church.

The bride, who has been residing at 3000 Myrtle avenue, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dorch of Dover, Tenn. Mr. Mahoney's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Saling of Shelbyville, Mo.

Rev. Truman Collins officiated at the 7 o'clock service before the altar decorated with summer flowers and greenery.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Helen Dorch, vocalist, sang "Because" and "Always," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Peggy Buchanan, who played the wedding march.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Italian lace over satin. The bodice, designed with a sweetheart neckline and long tapering sleeves, was gathered to a point in the front. The skirt swept into a cathedral train embroidered with lace and pearls. A fingertip veil of imported illusion was attached to a crown of seed pearls worn low over the forehead. The bride carried a white orchid and a lace handkerchief on a Bible, a gift of the bridegroom's great-aunt. The only ornament worn was a single strand of pearls, the bridegroom's gift.

Attendants were Miss Betty Settle of Clarksville, Tenn., maid of honor, Miss Mary Jo Saffarans of Palmyra, Mo., bridesmaid, and Miss Jo Ann Unger, a niece of the bride, junior maid.

The older girls were dressed alike in mint green chiffon over taffeta with short sleeves and cowl necklines. The skirts were ballerina-length. Matching green floating veils were attached to green satin bandeaus appliqued with lace. Both held nosegays of green and white flowers with white satin ribbons. The junior maid was in sunny yellow chiffon over taffeta with a matching band in her hair and a yellow and white nosegay.

The candlelighters, Misses Susan and Sandra Dorch, twin sisters of the bride, were also in yellow chiffon over taffeta with yellow bands in their hair. They wore corsages of white baby's breath.

A dress of powder blue lace and blue accessories was worn by the bride's mother, while the bridegroom's mother selected a dress of light blue eyelet. Both wore white orchid corsages.

Richard Straub was best man, serving with Carl F. Dorch, a brother of the bride. Ray Anderson, junior groomsman, Wayne and Leroy Unger, nephews of the bride, Jerome Buchanan, brother-in-law of the bride, and Larry Goodall, ushers.

A reception was held in the church parlors directly after the ceremony. Those assisting were Mrs. Carl F. Dorch, Mrs. Jerome Buchanan, Mrs. George Anderson and Mrs. Ernest Goodall.

Miss Bobbie Jo Dorch, sister of the bride, presided over the guest register.

The bride's table was covered with Italian lace over linen with yellow tapers in crystal candleholders and lemon leaves flanking the large tiered wedding cake.

After a wedding trip to New York City the newlyweds will establish their home in St. Louis.

The bridegroom's parents entertained with a rehearsal dinner party Friday evening.

The bride's gown of Chantilly lace was floor-length. It was fashioned with a molded bodice enhanced with a scalloped rose design trimmed with iridescent sequins. The sleeves, which came to points at the hands, were fastened with small covered buttons. Back interest in the very full skirt was created by a chapel train made of alternating layers of sequin-ornamented lace and tulle. The hemline was scalloped in a rose design and edged with sequins.

The bride wore a silk organza bow, two large rose buds with pearl centers and pearlized imported flowers to secure her fingertip veil of silk illusion. Phalaenopsis orchids and yellow lace were combined with orange blossoms in the cascade bridal bouquet, centered with a detachable corsage. Mr. Baize gave his daughter in marriage.

Miss Susan Busch, maid of honor, and Miss Fay Baize and Miss Linda McCollegan, sisters of the bride and groom, bridesmaids, were dressed alike in yellow silk organza. The gowns had short necklines and short domed skirts smocked with seed pearls. Self-trimmed bows were at the waistlines and all wore matching crowns with pearls and tiny veils.

The maid of honor held an apricot tinted lace fan adorned with small carnations in the same shade, orange blossoms and white streamers. White lace fans with yellow carnations were carried by the bridesmaids.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Baize selected a pink lace sheath dress ornamented with crushed sequins. It was worn with a white lace jacket, white accessories and a pink orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother was in a moss green silk dress embroidered with appliques and beige accessories. Her flowers were green-tipped orchids.

Tony Mance was best man for Mr. McCollegan, serving with Lawrence Stajduhar, Bill Talley, Lawrence Druhe and Leo Diffenbach, groomsmen and ushers.

The wedding breakfast was held at the McCollegan home on Lee avenue, and relatives and friends of the couple attended an evening reception at the American Legion hall.

Both young people were graduated from the Granite City high school in 1961. Mr. McCollegan later attended a Baltimore barber college. He is now employed at a local barber shop. The former Miss Baize is employed at an insurance company office in St. Louis.

Mercer Nips St. Clair in 10th On Unearned Run

Hearts Absorb 5th Straight Setback, 12-3

An unearned run, the result of two errors on the same play in the bottom of the 10th inning, gave Mercer Funeral Home an 8-7 victory over Blue division leader St. Clair. Heart of East St. Louis here yesterday.

The Inter-City Baseball League victory by the Granite City club was its first in three tries this season over St. Clair and cut the East St. Louis' lead over the Blue division leader by 1 1/2 games. The Mercers are just 1 1/2 games back on the last side.

Trouble continued to follow Sacred Heart, the other I-C club from Granite City. Paul Schuler's forces were stuck with their fifth straight loss by Maryville, 12-3. The Hearts have not won since June 30, and only Collinsville's 5-2 loss to Red division front-runner Moose Lodge kept Sacred Heart from total occupancy of the Red loop basement. Both the Boosters and Hearts have 4-11 records.

Braves Close Gap
The Hearts still have mathematical possibilities of making the post-season playoffs, third-place Troy dropped its 10th game of the year to Picochonts, 9-5. The Braves took up a full game on St. Clair and trail the East St. Louis club by just 1 1/2 games.

Yesterday's action was completed with the Altoona Flyers' 12-5 surprise win over Maryville on the losers' list. Winners of only three games in 14 outings this summer, Altoona had won two in succession.

Mercer became only the second team to beat St. Clair this season—Moose Lodge did it the first time, 12-4 back on July 4, when pinchhitter Glenn Hoffman coaxed a walk off Don Dillinger in the ninth with the score tied 7-7.

Hoffman swiped second and, when the ball got away, set sail for third. The throw from the outfield to third base was wild and Glenn came in with the winning run.

9th Inning Rally
Mercer almost didn't make it to the 10th. It took a three-run rally in the bottom of the eighth off starter Gene Masinelli which tied the score and sent the Wilson Park game into extra innings.

A hit batsman, Don Dillard's double, single by Don Crabtree, an error and Bob Jones' single accounted for the three runs. Jones had homered in the eighth for Mercer's fourth run.

Harland Scheibel had two earlier hits and scored two runs for the winners.

St. Clair treated pitcher Bob Vetter roughly in the early innings, with Jim Chamberlain and John Crnkovich cracking home

Gene Jenkins took first in the fender class feature, followed by Don Stump and Pursley. Sonny Burton and Ted Williams scored wins in fender heat races.

Beats Polish Hall 7-4 In Title Game; Ernie & Annie's 3rd

SPORTSMAN'S CLUB WON TOP HONORS
In the 12-team Amateur Softball Association regional slow pitch tournament here last night by defeating Polish Hall 7-4 in the tourney's 23rd and final game.

The champions were forced into an extra game by Polish Hall, which came out of the losers' bracket to defeat the eventual winners in a wild 25-13 contest played just before the title decider.

The top two teams, plus third place finisher Ernie & Annie's, will represent Granite City this weekend in the first Illinois state slow pitch finals, which will also be played here in Wilson Park. The winner of this eight-team double elimination tourney will represent the state in the national slow pitch finals at Jones Beach, N. Y., later this month.

Four Straight Wins
Sportsman's advanced unbeaten through its first four games in regional play, which began Friday night. The champions defeated, in order, Club Delmar 12-2, Madison Baptist 12-3, Madison Bowl 12-7 and Ernie & Annie's 13-4 before running into Polish Hall in the finals.

Polish Hall had the toughest task of coming up out of the losers' bracket. The club tripped Springfield-Dawes 12-5 in the first round, but then dropped an 8-4 decision to Second Baptist.

In the losers' bracket, Polish Hall defeated Club Delmar 10-3. Home of the Blues 12-5, Madison Bowl 9-0 in the tourney's only shutout, Springfield-Dawes 8-5 and Ernie & Annie's 12-11 with a five-run rally in the top of the seventh. Jerry Dusek had three-run homer to cap the comeback.

49 Homers in Tourney
Hitters jerked the ball out of the park with regularity during the tournament, despite the strength-supplying heat. Forty-nine home runs were recorded in the 23 games played, 16 of them by members of the title team.

Third-place Ernie & Annie's began play with an 8-7 win over Home of the Blues. Second Baptist 10-3 and then lost to Sportsman's 13-4. In the losers' bracket, Ernie & Annie's dropped its second game to Polish Hall by the aforementioned 12-11 score.

12-Run Inning
Sportsman's, with a chance to sew up the title in its first meeting with Polish Hall, could not overcome a 12-run fifth inning by the winners, who pounded out 29 hits, including two home runs by winning pitcher Stan Seawalka and John Crnkovich.

Joe "Maury" Sam Georff and Ralph Morris each pounded homers for Sportsman's, accounting for six runs between them. It was a different story in the final game. Fine fielding plays behind Jim Goodrich's hurling made the difference.

Carl Linhart's two-run homer climaxed a four-run first inning for Sportsman's, and single runs with a single.

Unbeaten GC Team To Play Survivor Of Losers' Bracket Tomorrow Night

Don Reilly's solo home run, another close-to-the-vest pitching job by Howie Lamb and continued airtight defense boosted the Granite City park district Class "A" softball club into the finals of the Amateur Softball Association's sectional tourney at Caseyville Saturday night.

The park nipped the Alt-Wood Merchants 1-0 in a winners' bracket semifinal, thus assuring itself of no less than a second-place finish in the nine-team double elimination tournament.

Manager Conrad "Babe" Champion's club will play again tomorrow night at 7:30, meeting one of three teams which are still alive in the losers' bracket, Southern Illinois Athletic Club, Johnny's of Belleville and Alt-Wood.

SIAC and Johnny's are scheduled to clash at 7:30 tonight, and the winner will go against the Merchants in a game which will follow at 8:45 p.m. and will determine the park district's Tuesday night opponent.

55 Scoreless Innings
Lamb will hurl Tuesday's game and will be seeking to extend the park's 35-inning unscathed streak. A park loss would necessitate a second game Tuesday evening.

Granite City was the tourney runner-up last year, and went on to finish second in the state finals behind the Vandalia Merchants, who have been eliminated this year.

Left-hander Reilly smacked a two-strike pitch by Bob Garner over the right-centerfield fence to lead off the second inning Saturday night, and that was all the cushion Lamb and the GC defense needed.

Howie allowed just two hits, both of them singles by Stan Fincher, as he struck out 11 and shut out the Merchants. It was Lamb's third shutout victory in sectional tournament play.

Pitcher Wins Own Game
Last night SIAC's best pitcher in the first round by the park, went nine innings to gain a 1-0 win against Vandalia Merchants and Rip Rappe.

Clete Schwaeger tossed a two-inning game against the Caseyville champs, pitched against the third-place team from the Sullivan section, the runner-up, and pitched a no-hitter against the team which lost the sectional championship.

MAM Is No-Hit Shutout
The tournament's eighth shutout went into the books Thursday night when Johnny's Lloyd Boland spun a no-hitter against Millie & Mickey's to edge the Granite City team 1-0 in eight innings and eliminate the latter club from the tourney.

Thursday night's first game Southern Illinois Athletic Club nipped Frankie's of Belleville 2-1. The game was a no-hitter for the competition, too, but not before it earned the distinction of being the first losing team to score runs in the tourney.

Boland hooked up seven innings of scoreless softball in the one game. The Belleville club finally got to six in the eighth, with Boland getting the winning frame.

He singled, Bob Cook followed with an amateur error, and the fourth off SK, John Basarich worked to lead the bases and Gene Nye got the decisive home run with a sacrifice fly.

Boland struck out 10 and walked just one in his seven-inning effort. SK, pitching well enough to win most games, walked four in the ninth to give up four hits, and struck out five.

Golden 'Palomino' To Be Featured In Rotary Horse Show

Making its annual appearance in the Granite City Rotary club's horse show, to be held Sunday, Aug. 25, at the Tri-City Speedway near Mitchell, will be the golden steed of the American Southwest—the Palomino.

The Palomino (a Spanish word meaning like a dove) is a spirited saddle horse which originated and came into prominence in the Southwestern United States.

At present it is not regarded as a true breed but as a color phase. But because of its beautiful color (gold with snowy white tail and mane) the Palomino has become a popular pleasure mount and has been bred into several light horse breeds including the American saddle horse, quarter horse and the Tennessee walking horse.

Many stories have been written about the origin of the Palomino but most are based on conjecture and have no concrete foundation. The version most authentic and generally accepted credits the Spaniards with bringing the ancestors of the first palominos into Mexico in the early 16th century. It is believed that Hernando Cortez, the famed conqueror of Mexico, introduced a number of Spanish horses into North America and they spread over the southern and western portion of the United States. Although he did not record Palomino horses in his shipment, Cortez had horses of dun color (dull yellowish-brown) and the first Palomino probably appeared as a mutation from this early 1600's of the horse world.

PALOMINO—The famed golden steed of the American southwest will be making its annual appearance in this year's Rotary club horse show Sunday, Aug. 25.

Today the golden Palomino became familiar to horsemen as a parade, pleasure, stock and show horse and is always a favorite of western horse show enthusiasts.

Driver Arrested After Crash On Market Street
Venice police charged Bryant Jones, 59, of 909 Bissell street, Madison, with property destruction and having no driver's license after the right front of his eastbound car had collided with the left front of the westbound auto of Marjorie Bushong, 1635 (rear) Market street, Madison, in front of 1511 Market, Venice, at 8:25 a.m. Friday.
Jones, who was turning left to enter a driveway, was released on a property bond to return for a hearing.

Levee District Gets Station Maintenance
The new, $630,000 pumping station for Madison by the Corps of Engineers, was turned over to the East Side Levee & Sanitary District last week for maintenance, it was announced today.
Col. James B. Meador Jr., St. Louis district engineer for the C. of E., said the responsibility was given to the levee district following trial operations.
The new pumping station, built by A. H. Seebold Co., is located adjacent to the river levee a short distance upstream from the Merchant's Bridge. It is on Granite City Army Depot property.

Optimists Told Of GC Need For Election Commission
A greater confidence in the electoral system of voting would result if Granite City had a board of election commissioners, said Richard Allen, chairman of the Democratic party of Granite City, in a speech Thursday before 50 Noonday Optimists. The regular weekly luncheon was at the Elks lodge.
Allen discussed the need and manner of setting up such a board and the possible results. Growth of the city's population and the increasing complexity of conducting city elections were the major reasons cited by Allen for the need of an election board. He cited vote discrepancies in the city—the city election and the park district election.
No intentional wrongdoing in the elections was suspected by Allen, but he said it is this type of thing which points up the need of a board of commissioners.
County Appointments
The board would be a three-man body appointed by the county judge. The board, in turn, would appoint five judges for each precinct, with the appointments approved by the county judge. Allen said the board feels that election judges appointed by a board would be more impartial and independent than those which are now appointed by incumbents in office.
In order to establish a board of commissioners, Allen said, the signatures of 4000 persons would have to be obtained on a petition calling for the county judge to bring the proposition to election. He cited the names on the petition had been verified, the county judge would agree to an election. The referendum could be held during the next general election of the city.
Election costs would be somewhat greater if a board of commissioners was in operation, said Allen, but he did not consider this a valid argument against the board. He cited the elaborate and costly court system of the United States, one of the cornerstones of our democratic society, as an example of the price paid for more perfect democracy.
Added Cost
The reason for the extra cost, said Allen, is that "there would be more to regulate." The five judges appointed to serve each precinct would conduct a two-day period of voter registration before each election held in the city and then would canvass that precinct to determine whether the addresses listed by the registrants were their true addresses. This canvassing would reduce the possibility of persons casting ballots in several different precincts.
Such safeguards provided by the board, Allen said, would make the additional cost of elections worthwhile.
A certain percentage of the cost of the elections, Allen said, would be defrayed by the county because Granite City would be the first city in the county to establish a board of election commissioners. Allen cited a statute which provides a certain amount of county funds to the first city in the county to establish a board of commissioners.
Additional results of the establishment of a board would be a greater continuity of election judges' appointments. Because they would be appointed by the board and approved by the county judge, they would not be subject to the whims of incumbent city officials.
He also cited the strong possibility that a board of commissioners would probably set up new precinct and ward boundaries to force a more equitable representation for the voters.
A question and answer period followed Allen's talk. It was presided over by David John, president of the Optimists.

Record Number Of Traffic Accidents In GC Last Month

Granite City police reported today that there were 103 traffic accidents during July, a new record for one month in the city.

The previous high was 90, set in July of 1955. Last month's figure might have been even higher, but the city spent more than 48 hours without a traffic accident from early last Monday to late Wednesday morning.

The police department is predicting there will be 90 accidents on city streets during August. Thirty of the July accidents occurred on Madison avenue, with half of these between 20th and 24th streets.

Many were of the "rear-end" variety at traffic signals, cars often make quick stops at the change of a light, police said.

Hi Neighbor Glad to be back!

The big excitement is at 2101 Adams. Tomorrow's opening day —Nestle' is back in town, bigger and better than ever. Granite City will find plenty to like in Nestle's new instant coffee plant. It's described as the world's most advanced processing operation of its kind.

Each year, 50,000,000 jars of "Nescafe'" instant coffee and "Decaf" instant coffee will roll off the packaging lines — bringing instant cheer and refreshment to customers throughout the midwest.

The new plant is 83,000 square feet big—bright and shiny, modern as tomorrow. It will need twice as many local residents to produce twice as much of the world's best instant coffee. So, while we're busy around the clock at our new processing plant, why not treat yourself to a cup of rewarding instant coffee — made right here in Granite City.

Nestle's 4,000 men and women, processing a wide variety of flavorful instant and convenience food products, extend their greetings to Granite City from plants in:

Fulton, N.Y.; Salinas and Ripon, Calif.; Sunbury, Marysville, and Greenville, O.; Freehold, N.J.; New Milford, Conn.; Uby, Mich.; Baltimore, Md.

Campbell, general manager of manufacturing, serving as foodmaster. He will brief the background information on the Nestle firm, and then introduce Mayor Leonard B. Davis with Wolfstien presenting the concluding address.

No public open house is planned at this time.

Nestle officials at tomorrow's event will include Robert C. Shropshire, vice-president of marketing; H. W. Bullock, manager of coffee and milk manufacturing; W. C. Baker, chief engineer; Harlan Schneider, supervisor of plant maintenance; D. S. Lovelace, manager of technical services; and Ralph W. Pasick, assistant Granite City plant manager.

Swiss Watch Precision

Nestle engineers who designed the new plant here say it is constructed "like a fine Swiss watch," with every step in the complex process geared to function with maximum precision and efficiency.

General contractor was S. M. Wilson & Co., Krenshaw, who performed mechanical work. Rite Electric Co. was the electrical subcontractor and Norstrom handled engineering supervision.

The 83,000-square-foot plant will be operated 24 hours a day to produce instant Nescafe coffee. Decaf instant coffee (decaffeinated and instant Nescafe) is estimated at 50 million jars annually. Sizes to be produced are two-ounce, six-ounce and ten-ounce.

The Quad-Cities are viewed by Nestle as a "strategically situated midwestern industrial center," and plans call for the local plant to supply instant coffee for the firm's growing number of customers in the Midwest.

Production Procedures

How will the local plant convert green coffee into the finished products?

From the time bags of coffee are opened into the blending pit until the jars of pure instant coffee are sealed off, automatic aging lines, the product will not be touched by hand. Its movement through the process will be controlled electrically and electronically through a number of graphic control panels located around the plant.

These panels will trace the flow and level, and control the time, temperature and processing of natural coffee beans as they are transformed into pure instant coffee powder.

About 20,000 bags of green coffee from Latin America and Africa, each weighing between 130 and 200 pounds, are stored in the plant. After the beans are blended and cleaned, they will move through two continuous roasters at the rate of 600 pounds an hour.

Million Cups in 4 Hours

A bank of plant coffee processors, or extractors, then will brew one million cups of fresh coffee every four hours.

The freshly brewed coffee will be held only long enough to be sprayed into a 40-degree vacuum for the water to be removed. What remains will be pure instant coffee. These powders will be carefully placed in specially-enclosed stainless steel tote bins to protect their delicate flavors and aroma.

Final step in the process will be packaging the instant coffee on two high-speed automatic vacuum filling lines, with a capacity of 220 jars a minute.

New Reactor

Adjacent to the plant is a newly-designed reactor installation, where all spent coffee ground will be burned. The reactor also will furnish steam for further processing of instant coffee.

Architectural features of the new plant are masonry curtain wall construction, with a number of sections fabricated from insulated aluminum panels. Many of these panels are removable to facilitate installing major pieces of processing equipment.

Several removable plastic domes are installed along the roof of the structure for the same purpose.

Office areas and large sections of the processing area are temperature- and humidity-controlled, and two laboratories located in the plant engage in quality control and analytical work.

Worldwide Organization

Company officials say the new plant reflects more than 30 years' experience and continuous developmental work in instant coffee processing by the worldwide Nestle organization.

Nestle became involved in instant coffee in 1930 when the Brazilian government asked the Swiss company to perfect a soluble coffee product that retained the flavor, aroma and satisfaction of the finest brewed coffee made from ground beans. Almost a decade of trial and error passed before Nescafe, the first modern instant coffee, was introduced to U.S. consumers. It was processed in Sunbury, O.

GC Plant Opened In 1948

Nescafe was an instant success. Bureaucratic demand for the new instant coffee led to opening the second processing plant in 1943 in Granite City. Later, other instant coffee plants were opened in Freehold, N.J., and Ripon, Calif.

Besides the four instant coffee plants, two of which also manufacture instant tea, Nestle has food processing installations in Fulton, N.Y.; Greenville and Marysville, O.; Ulu, Mich.; Salinas, Calif.; New Milford, Conn.; and Baltimore, Md.

These plants produce 300 different chocolate and cocoa products, margarine, soups, and bouillon, Croese & Blackwell food processing tools, and milk products largely for export.

Citizen Plan Group To Fight For Retention Of Zoning

A concerted effort to retain zoning for unincorporated areas of Madison County will be made by the Madison County Citizens Planning Committee. It was decided during a meeting of the group Thursday afternoon at Edwardsville.

The action will be taken in advance of the Aug. 14 meeting of the county board of supervisors when a vote is to be scheduled on a resolution calling for repeal of the county's zoning code. It is reported that the zoning code can be repealed by a majority vote of the 49-member board.

The citizens' group, headed by Collinsville Atty. Mathew Welch, agreed Thursday to call upon all organizations which aided in the adoption of zoning five months ago to renew their activities.

The groups are being asked to send letters to county board members urging the retention of zoning and also to make personal contacts with the supervisors. The Citizens Planning Committee also is writing to the board.

$33,747,136 Budget Ok'd For SIU

A budget of $33,747,136, of which $24,519,886 is to be from legislative appropriation, was approved last week by Southern Illinois University trustees meeting at Edwardsville.

The budget includes $19,688,933 for salaries and wages of which $668,078 is for increases.

The budget contains an increase in funds for student work program to $1,532,094, which President Morris said provides for still more student help and five-cent an hour across-the-board increase in the student help pay scale which had been announced earlier.

Additional anticipated income shows $3,247,520 in restricted funds, largely gifts and grants earmarked for specific purposes such as research; $442,800 from student activities; $72,780 from student aid and $1,369,150 from auxiliary enterprises, principally operation of university-owned housing.

was about 7 p.m. they noticed the two youths had disappeared. They began a search and summoned aid, notifying the sheriff's office.

Deputy Coroner Pieper theorizes that one of the brothers might have been swept off the log by the current and the other went to his rescue, also going down in the swift waters below the dam.

Were Sitting On Log

Another fisherman, Ed Petras, 702 Twenty-sixth street, told the Press-Record at the scene that he saw the youths sitting on a log about 100 feet off the sandbar.

He believes the log slipped out from under the youths and they went after it. He aided the swimmers' companions in the search.

Clark Bridge To Be Closed 3 Weeks Starting Aug. 12

The Clark Bridge carrying U. S. 67 over the Mississippi River at Alton will be closed three weeks for repairs beginning Aug. 12, Francis S. Lorenz, director of the Department of Public Works and Buildings, announced today.

The bridge is jointly maintained by Missouri and Illinois and traffic bureaus of the two states will mark detour routes for use by motorists during the period the bridge is closed to vehicular traffic.

From the Illinois side, traffic is expected to be detoured to bridges crossing the Mississippi River at Chain of Rocks Bridge west of Madison, Veterans Bridge at East St. Louis, and other bridges in the East St. Louis area.

The repair work will consist of rehabilitating the bridge deck. Engineers decided that because of the heavy volume of traffic and the narrowness of the bridge it would be impractical to try and do the repair work without closing the structure.

The repair work will be done by the day labor forces of the Illinois Division of Highways. To expedite completion of the job at the earliest possible date the workmen will have a six-day-a-week and a 10-hour-a-day work schedule.

Engineers expect to complete the work within less than the three-week period in order to have the bridge opened to traffic for the Labor Day weekend, Lorenz said.

The Clark Bridge is the Mississippi River portion of the Lewis and Clark Bridges in the Alton area. The Lewis Bridge crosses the Missouri River a short distance west of the Clark Bridge in Missouri.

The two bridges were constructed in 1928 and operated as toll bridges until 1957. Since then the structures have been toll free and maintained by Missouri and Illinois.

Average daily traffic on the bridges during 1962 was 10,800 vehicles.

Two good ways to spend 30 cents

BUY A SODA

An ice cream soda—sure, it's mighty delicious. Good for you, too. A fine thing to have more of and enjoy more often. But after a few minutes of pleasure, the soda is gone.

BUY A WHOLE DAY'S ELECTRIC SERVICE

Yes, thirty cents. That's about what it costs the average family to make a full day's use of electric conveniences. It figures—when 1 cent's worth of electricity brews 32 cups of coffee and toasts 35 slices of bread, 7 to 10 cents a day cooks the family meals, 3 cents worth works a food freezer, less than 3 cents worth keeps you cool all night with a night cooling fan. And so on.

Electricity is still the greatest value in your budget
